Local Sightseeing

The property can organise visits to many tourist destinations, including:

Tucked away in the middle of the wilderness, at a distance of around 7 kilometres from Dapoli city, lies the ancient Keshavraj temple. The temple is over 5,000 years old and is believed to have been built by the Pandavas in a single night. The Keshavraj Mandir is situated on a hilltop and one needs to climb around 200+ steps to reach this spot. The walk is through a forest of coconut and beetle nut trees that maintain the coolness and freshness in the air.

Ladghar Beach - Ladghar Beach, eight kms from Dapoli, is famous for the colours of the sky during sunset. The orange-red combination in the sky gives a glorious tint to the seawater which gives the beach the name of Tamas Tirth. Water sports and adventure facilities like banana rides, power boats, parasailing activities and much more are available on this beach.

Parshuram Bhumi - This is a temple cum meditation center built by the Ganu family near Dapoli. It is dedicated to Bhagwan Parshuram. It resembles the earth with Lord Parashuram standing on it. He is the sixth avatar of Vishnu in Hinduism.
